CONTINUE: THREE BRISBANE ARTISTS DESCEND ON CHAPTER HOUSE LANE IN JUNE

Chapter House Lane is delighted to take part in Dispatch a window-space art exchange program this June. The exhibition titled Continue: Three Brisbane Artists is curated by Kate McKenzie and will see works on display by Brisbane-based artists Archer Davies, Sarah Poulgrain and Angelica Roache-Wilson.

Continue: Three Brisbane Artists derives its name from the wisdom imparted by a favourite teacher of German artist Jonathan Meese: "Continue, continue, continue," in itself a reflection of the dedication that the art making process requires.

The works themselves respond to and articulate Brisbane, giving an insight into what it is like to live and make art there, and yet call upon influences from international artists and art history.

The exhibition will showcase oil paintings by Archer Davies, Angelica Roache-Wilson and a site-specific installation by Sarah Poulgrain.

- Archer Davies: Philadelphia Artist in Residence thanks to Griffith University and Crane Art School, Co-Curator of A-CH gallery in 2012 – 2013. <http://archerdavies.tumblr.com>
- Sarah Poulgrain: recipient of the Painting Faculty Award at Queensland College of Fine Art, finalist in the Graduate Art Show and Espresso Garage Awards; she has exhibited in Brisbane and Edinburgh. <http://sarahpoulgrain.tumblr.com>
- Angelica Roache-Wilson: BFA graduate with Honours from Queensland College of Art. <http://angelicarochewilson.com>

Continue: Three Brisbane Artists follows Chapter House Lane's earlier contribution to Dispatch – Andrzej Nowicki's Spooks go striding which was exhibited in October 2013 at Current Projects in Brisbane.

Opening: Thursday 5 June, 6-8pm
Exhibition runs from 5th to the 29th June
